Chapter 1 by Phantim

(Would like to try something new here. I want this story to be a chess type match. Two nation will be fighting, U.S.A. will go first. The draft phase will then switch into the Russia phase. Then back to U.S.A. Please alternate between the countries to show action and reaction. Example U.S.A. raises trade fee, Russia cut off oil supplies. Etc. In each turn you will only write the actions of ONE country.)

The hostilities in the Middle East escalate as the U.S.A.'s backing of ISIS forces has caused an immense deterioration of U.S. Russian relations. Wary that Russia will become involved in the conflict to protect its own interests. Secretary of State John Kerry proposes new heavy sanctions against Russia to cripple their economy and prevent them from having the financial means to go to a war abroad. The U.S. pays out hundreds of millions of dollars to other nations on the U.N. council to get the sanctions approved world wide. The estimated damage to the Russian economy is huge. President Obama issues an executive order freezing all Russian assets in American banks, and places a travel ban on the country.

Chapter 2 by LethalPianist

Russia declares unofficial war on the United States by infiltrating and spying on American technology. Russian immigrants conducts terrorist strikes in the Country. Obama declares state of emergency. America devolves into Anarchy.

Chapter 3 by LethalPianist

China becomes involved.

The United States declares official war on Russia, and fire ICBMs at Russia. Russian missiles intercept the nuclear warheads and the missiles are detonated in the high atmosphere.

Nuclear fallout rains towards Earth, covering 20% of Russia, all of Mongolia, most of China, and a few European countries. The other nations of the U.N. demand compensation from America, and halts all trade to both the US and Russia until the issues are resolved.

China forms an alliance with Russia as a result of Nuclear damage.

Chapter 4 by LethalPianist

The Russians and the Chinese collaborate and send up satellites, each complete with concentrated lasers capable of storing solar energy and unleashing a destructive ion ray anywhere on Earth.

Nuclear bases all over the US are hit, causing massive infrastructural damage and destroying over 90% of the Nuclear Arsenal. The resulting Nuclear fallout from the weapons bring on horrible mutations and the break-up of society. Fallout travels throughout the American continent, rendering it an inhabitable wasteland.

The American high government officials are relocated and begin planning. Canada, Britain, and other Latin American countries ally with the US.

Chapter 5 by Adam

The British government send troops and supplies to the US to aid in the conflict and agree to send multiple bombers across Russia to cause minor terror in multiple Russian cities. Troops from all over Europe mobilize towards the Russians and Multiple nuclear bombs are dropped on China destroying Shanghai, Hong Kong, Beijing and other major Chinese cities rendering most of China inhabitable. Chinese troops are defeated in India by US Forces and other Asian

US and Europe

Chapter 6 by LethalPianist

Chinese officials declare the deployment of Operation: 世界末日(Armageddon), sending hundreds of satellite-strikes of the solar beam ion rays on the Earth. Britain, mainland Europe, and Latin America are devastated from the concentrated ion strikes. Canada declares martial law and organize citizens into the streets to direct mirrors towards the sky. The beams are reversed and destroy the satellites.

Russia implements their version of Operation: армагеддон and detonates nuclear charges buried underneath the tectonic plates, and massive tsunamis devastate the coastlines.

India joins the Russo-Chinese Alliance.

Chapter 7 by Will Coloff

The americans put Operation 666 into effect as a last resort. They sent up millions of electron towers across the US that sent billions of electrons into the air creating a force feild to protect the US from any attack

Chapter 8 by Dan_K

Finally, after 2 billion years of monitoring the Earth, making the first cell so that more life could grow, creating people like Einstien, Edison, and Newton to push Earth into a more civilized place, the Martians understand that the only way to stop all people from being killed is to intervene.

The Martians surround Earth with spaceships and powerful weapons that could destroy a solar system in 2 seconds. They had blocked off trading and communication between Earth and the outside galaxy civilizations since the beginning so the humans would be able to learn much more from progressing through trial and error, rather than just living off everything they had gotten from others. They demanded that all nations put down arms or they would be killed.

All nations, except Samoa, oblige. Little Samoa hadn't gotten the message yet and had allied with America the day before. So the Americans, with explosives and placed it inside a Fiji Island, as Fiji had joined the Russo-Chinese Alliance. The attack killed a total of 28 people.
